MARKS EXPECTS BIG REPUBLICAN VOTE IN NOVEMBER

Enthusiasm Is Shown in Efforts to Bring out All Eligible Voters

With an estimated 20,712 eligible voters who do not go to the polls in Lake county, Republican leaders today are bending every effort to bring out every available voter at the presidential election Nov. 5.

"It is believed that Lake county will record its largest vote in November," said William M. Marks of Lake Villa, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee. "This seems more than likely with the unprecedented number of volunteer workers who have asked that they be permitted to work for the Republican party."

Mothers, housewives, young voters, veterans and constitutional Democrats have been recorded at the Republican headquarters in strict opposition to the third term of the New Dealers.

At the organization of the young voters, plans were consummated to bring 5,000 into the ranks of the Lake County Young Republicans. A similar organization arose among the veterans' organization in an effort to elect Wendell L. Willkie, C. Wayland Brooks and Dwight H. Green.

Fear that New Dealers will force the United States into the war has brought out mothers and housewives against the election of Roosevelt and his candidates since all Republican candidates have pledged themselves never to send American boys into foreign lands to fight.

Constitutional Democrats have lined up behind Republican candidates in every section in the belief that the third term will lead to dictatorship.

"Andyvilla," the C. K. Anderson's beautiful home on Lake Marie, will be the scene of a "Republican Women's Tea" to which Mrs. Anderson will be hostess Friday afternoon, Oct. 11, from 2 to 5 p. m.

George H. Paddock, Republican candidate for representative in the Congress, from the Tenth district, is to be a guest of honor.

Marie Suthers, prominent in Republican women's activities, is to attend. Mrs. Dorothea Ticken, chairman of the Republican women in Lake county, will be present to offer helpful and inspirational suggestions for women interested in furthering the Republican campaign.

The tea will be open to all women interested in attending. Mrs. Anderson states, issuing a general invitation. Persons needing transportation may make arrangements by telephoning Antioch 175-J or 262-J.

Two Die from Auto Accidents in County

John Heavey, 69-year-old farm hand employed on the Otto Hoeske farm at Long Grove, was fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile driven by Arthur C. Reynolds, Chicago, on Rand road at Quentin's corners, south of Lake Zurich, Sunday. Heavey, who had walked to the center of the four-lane roadway while Reynolds was approaching from the north, is believed to have become confused and to have stepped into the path of the car.

Two Chicago colored youths are being investigated by Waukegan police as suspects in the search for a hit-run driver who caused the death of Harry I. Boyer, of Waukegan, who died Sunday morning from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile Saturday night on Genesee street.

Restitution of Money Wins Clemency for Girl

After restitution of sums of money she had taken had been made by her father, Jayne Schultz, 18, of Salem, was placed on probation for one year by Judge Perry L. Persons at Waukegan yesterday.

Jayne, formerly employed at the Sunshine Beauty shop, admitted taking sums of money totaling $30. The thefts were traced when one of the operators, Dorothy Coulombe, acting on the advice of a friend, recorded serial numbers of bills, and later checked them with an Antioch store where the girl had been shopping.

Ferris Awards Prize Money for Big Fish

Fifty dollars in prize money for big fish caught in Lake Marie was awarded Sunday to two Chicago anglers at Paul Ferris' Lake Marie Camp. The money went to Chas. Streeckert, 5944 S. Maplewood avenue, Chicago, who received $25; and to Frank Howe, 6000 Winchester avenue, Chicago, who also received $25. Streeckert's prize catch was a 5 1/4 lb. bass hooked on August 10. He also caught a 4 1/2-pounder the same day; and on September 21 he caught a 2-lb. bass and a 4 1/4-lb. pickerel. Howe's catch was a 5 1/4-lb. pickerel caught on July 16.

The awards were made by Mayor George B. Bartlett of Antioch in the presence of a large gathering of fishermen and picnickers.

Announcement of the prizes to be given the last Sunday in September was made early this season by Mr. Ferris—$25 for the largest bass and $25 for the prize pickerel, as an encouragement to anglers who patronized his camp and wanted to go after the big ones.

High School P. T. A. To Hold First Fall Meeting October 9

Discussion of plans for the coming year, followed by a social hour and the serving of refreshments will feature the first meeting of the Antioch High School Parent-Teacher association to be held in the cafeteria Wednesday night, October 9 at 8:00 o'clock, according to announcement made today by President L. J. Zimmerman and Acting Secretary Ruth Ward.

After the transaction of business the meeting will be turned into a social hour, when parents and teachers will have an opportunity of becoming acquainted.

President Zimmerman will announce the appointment of committees to serve during the year. Mrs. Ward is now acting as temporary secretary. In the absence of Miss Slocum, faculty member of the school who did not return this fall.

The high school Parent-Teacher association was first organized a few years ago under the name of Parent-Teacher Forum, but the name was changed last February to Parent-Teacher association when affiliation with state and national association was effected.

State and Farmers Claim Same Land

Formerly Part of Lake Bed, Area at Pistakee Bay Is Cause of Dispute

Land once a part of lake beds and now claimed both by the state of Illinois and by the farmers who have used and paid taxes on it, is the center of dispute in suits filed last Thursday in circuit court.

On behalf of the state of Illinois, Attorney General John E. Cassidy has filed the suits against Charles G. Paddock and Chester L. Stevens. The land in question is so-called swamp and marsh adjoining Pistakee bay and Grass Lake.

When the original government surveys were made about 160 years ago, the state claims, this land was part of the lake beds. The government transferred title of marsh and swamp lands to the state and county. The county waived its interest in favor of the state for conversion of this land into parks. The state claims that Paddock and Stevens had no right to fence this land and use it for pasture and other purposes.

Paddock and Stevens, through Attorneys Heywood and Daly, contend that they have held undisputed and continuous possession of the land for more than 20 years, have paid taxes on it, and are entitled to full legal ownership.

These cases have had many parallels in the lakes area, where much "border land" originally believed unfit for farming, use later proved highly productive and was worked by farmers, although in theory its ownership rested with the government.

Doctor Has Fun—Firemen Get the Fish

From Rainy lake, Minnesota, comes 100 pounds of trout, the gift of Dr. D. N. Deering to the Antioch Volunteer firemen. The doctor reported Saturday that he was having a wonderful time and that fishing in the north was good. The firemen will use the fish for a feed at a meeting next week.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

America Must Lead Way In Improving World, Says Speaker

At the first of the series of lectures sponsored by the Bahai of this area, held Tuesday evening in Antioch High school, Mrs. Dorothy Baker of Lima, Ohio, spoke to an attentive audience on "America's Place in World History." Speaking of America's position in relation to world peace, Mrs. Baker said, "America has already had many adventures in freedom. A handful of stalwart Englishmen crossed an ocean to establish spiritual freedom. Thirteen struggling colonies declared themselves independent of the old world and became an independent nation."

Even in their earliest days America's colonists abhorred ignorance and the long trek from the village schoolmaster to the finest network of public schools in the civilized world testifies to her adventure in education. The civil war proclaimed a race of freemen on this continent. America's womanhood is emancipated above womanhood in any other place in the world; and the industrial evolution and the rise of science have been our most recent adventures and with them a new trend toward unity has appeared. Hudson Bay has been lashed to the Gulf of Mexico and thousands of miles of white highways and steel rails have joined the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean."

Three adventures remain for America, Mrs. Baker said. One of them must be the rise of the popular mind above race prejudice; another the trend toward harmony in religion; and the third courageous leadership toward an international government, a super-state whose supreme objective will be the preservation of the world from aggressive warfare, universal education, the stabilization of world markets, and the harmonious advance towards a civilization in which faith, race relations and government are partners in a new and united way of life.

Two Victories Give Antioch Football Season Fine Start

Sequoits Win over Kenosha Reserves, Libertyville Frosh-Sophs

The Antioch high school team, which launched the school's first football season in seven years with victories over Kenosha and Libertyville teams Saturday and Tuesday respectively, will come up against a real test Saturday when it meets the strong Zion-Benton High aggregation.

Victories over Barrington and Lake Forest have already been scored by Zion. In the lineup will be some youths who played on the strong Waukegan team before transferring to the new Zion school.

The game is called for 2 p. m. at Zion.

Members of the Antioch first line and reserve squad include:

Arthur Carpenter, Cross lake; Arthur Small, Loon lake; Jack White, Allan Delbaets, Pikeville; Earl Brixen, Monaville; William Murphy, Highland lake.

Max Wurzbach, Monaville; Ed Jones, James Jones, Hickory; Jack Horan, Antioch; Bill Johnson, Channel lake; Robert Pedersen, Rosecrans; Leo Buchta, Lake Villa; James Roepennack, Grass lake.

James Harvey, Antioch; George Sterbenz, Loon lake; Jerry Hogan, Antioch; Charles Dalbke, Lake Catherine; Gordon Good, Saimmy Klass, Antioch.

R. Gross, Grass lake; Arthur Sobey, Antioch; Bert Jordan, Monaville; James Main, Grayslake; Arthur Hawkins, Robert Phillips, Antioch.

Overcome Bad Start

In their first game, against the Kenosha reserves at Kenosha Saturday, the Sequoits overcame an adverse lead to chalk up a final 19 to 6 victory.

The Kenoshans scored in the first few minutes of play by running the ends and throwing passes. During the remainder of the game, however, the Sequoits had control of the air and ground forces.

Touchdowns were achieved by Roepennack, Sterbenz and Jones. Harvey accounted for the extra point.

On Tuesday the Antioch second team marked up seven points while holding the Libertyville Frosh-Soph lineup scoreless.

Gross plunged over center for six points and a pass to Jones for the extra point concluded the scoring.

During the remainder of the game the ball moved back and forth with both teams threatening to score but neither succeeding. Jerry Hogan made the longest run during the game, from punt formation behind his own goal line to the forty-yard line.

Coach R. H. Childers has expressed himself as greatly pleased with the showing made by the Antioch youths.

Grant Community High school will present its Junior class play, "Wild Oranges," Friday evening, Oct. 18, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Second Edition of "Little Black Book" On Way, Says Green

Republican Candidate for Governor Charges Demos. Raise Slush Fund

The political shakedown is on again and the second edition of "the little black book" is being written, Dwight H. Green charged today. The Republican candidate for governor, before he started on a trip that will take him into eight counties for speeches in the northern half of the state, said that from Springfield, and from those counties in which state institutions are located, had come reports that collection of the campaign slush funds is in full swing.

"The first 'little black book' brought the unexplained death of one man and held Illinois up to fresh national scorn," Green said. "Now the pressure on state employees and contractors and supply agencies has been turned on full power and the second edition of the 'little book' is having its pages filled. On them are being recorded the contributions of those who must obey the Kelly-Nash-Nudelmann machine in the hope of keeping themselves on the payroll, and of those who are indebted for having shared in the waste in state funds. Those three valiant musketeers of political muscle are filling the war chest while the filling is good."

New "Gift" Technique

"The payrollers can't do much about the bosses' idea that the arbitrary minimum of two per cent of the semi-monthly pay checks is not too much to give to the great cause of continuing corruption in Illinois government. But with those who have done business with the state, a new technique has been adopted. No longer, as was the method when the first 'little black book' was written, is a contribution demanded on the cold blooded business basis of a percentage return on every dollar received on contracts. In a hotel room in Chicago last week, and now downstate, some of the top sergeants of the machine are making the generous gesture of permitting the contributor to determine the size of the 'gift.' But gestures aren't accepted too literally when the heat is on."

"One might expect the professional payroller, who is excess baggage in state administration, to pay for the privilege of holding on to his job. But the civil service worker, who is working on a basis of merit, must be protected against these slush fund collections. I state now, that if I am elected governor, the first person detected in forcing contributions from civil service employees of our state will wind up in jail."

"Of course contract prices for highways and other state work and for supplies are high, when the contractor who bids knows part of his profit must be returned to the machine politicians. We saw that demonstrated recently in Chicago when the grip of Mike Carrozza on paving contractors was loosened. More contractors bid on work and at lower prices. The taxpayers saved money."

Registration Days Set for Oct. 15 and 29

Registration days when poll books will be reviewed have been set for October 15 and October 29 in Lake county. Voters may register at their voting places, or they may give their names and addresses to any of the precinct committeemen.

The permanent registration law does not apply to Lake county, and registration here is not compulsory. The registration days are set aside for reviewing the poll books and putting the names of all voters at the last election on a new register for use in the November election. It is largely a matter of convenience for new voters or persons who have never voted to have their names put on this list, so that when they come to vote their qualifications will not be questioned. Failure to register, however, does not prevent them from voting; but if they are questioned on election day, they might be required to have someone vouch for their qualifications.

County P. T. A. Council Will Meet Wednesday

The first of three advisory programs designed to aid local P. T. A. units will be held by the Lake County Parent Teacher council Wednesday evening, Oct. 9, at 7:50 p. m. in Warren Township High School, Gurnee.

Parliamentary procedure and the reading of by-laws will occupy the attention of the council.

Mrs. Elmer Hunter of Antioch is serving as county president for a second year.

NO THIRD TERM!

No Appeasement Here

"Appeasement" has become a shameful word during the last year or two—and justly so. Today almost all of Europe is a tragic monument to the futility of attempting to appease the dictator powers. The appeasers may have been sincere, but they were terribly wrong. Dictators' ambitions know no limits. And each fresh attempt at appeasing the dictators simply gave them more confidence, and led to still greater demands.

In this country, the majority of the people are opposed to any efforts to appease those who may threaten the destruction of our way of life—which is the democratic way of life, with free men working under a free system. But there is a minority whose thoughts turn to the possibility of appeasement. "All over the world," their argument runs, "liberty has been abrogated, and government has been made supreme. Civil rights have been dissipated like leaves in a storm. It is logical to expect that we shall see a similar trend take root at home. So we might as well make the best of it. After all, even total governments must have the services of men with brains—there will always be jobs. So let's see if we can get on more friendly terms with our potential enemies."

A child can see what that argument must lead to, once accepted by the people. It would lead to a dictatorship as brutal and as thorough as any in Europe. For democracy is one thing that can't go half-way. Weaken it, and you are helping dig its grave. No nation, said Lincoln, can exist half slave and half free. And no nation can hope to strike a balance between representative government and total government. It must choose between one or the other, with no "ifs, and, or buts" involved.

A system worth having is a system worth fighting for. The United States prays for peace—but the United States was never a country to give an inch to its possible enemies. If the appeasers should have their way, we will go the way France went—and all that America has stood for in the past will become meaningless. Let's make up our minds that this is one corner of the world where democracy, social and economic, will be defended to the last ditch.

A Political Side Show

If any group in this country advocated that the totalitarian idea of owning or controlling industry was superior to the American system of private enterprise, the great majority of our own people would stand aghast.

And yet, they accept the same doctrine piecemeal when it is fed to them as a Federal electric power development scheme. They overlook the fact that as the Federal program puts private companies out of business in various parts of the nation, it absorbs a field of private endeavor just as definitely as would the totalitarian philosophy.

By tactics that would make the chief medicine man of a tribe of heathens look like an amateur, champions of socialized power make the electric users feel that a saving of 50 cents a month in an average small household is the important issue in their lives. They never mention that the saving comes at the expense of taxpayers who build tax-subsidized, tax-exempt Federal power plants.

If it were not serious, this political sideshow would be amusing. But the elevation of the State to the right of supreme dictator in any line of business is a dangerous and damaging precedent to set in any free country. How long will it be before similar Federal socialization will be suggested for food, clothing, rent and farm produce which now take practically all of the average family income?

Think twice, Mr. and Mrs., before you endanger your own future and your own business. The issue is not the few pennies you might save by using subsidized power. The real issue is whether you can see through the camouflaged program, and save for yourself the future right to do business as a free and independent citizen in this nation.

And that's really something to think about when you see what has happened to individuals in countries where the State has made them mere pawns in a politically-controlled industrial structure.

The Right to Vote

Strange as it may seem, it is reported that a gross misunderstanding exists in some parts of the country to the effect that if a Democrat casts a vote for a Republican candidate, the voter makes himself a Republican instead of a Democrat, and vice versa, and thereby terminates his affiliation with his own party.

If such a mistaken idea exists, it is important that voters be informed that they can vote for whom they please in general elections, without in any way changing their party affiliations or their right to vote in primaries and other local elections.

Less Than Half

In 1930 the sale of American farm products to foreign countries amounted to $1,496,000,000. With New Deal reciprocal trade treaties with sixteen countries in force in 1939, our sale of American farm products had dropped to $893,000,000—less than half of the 1930 figure.

Farm Imports Increase

In 1937 this country imported 68,277,000 pounds more meat than we exported, while in 1932 we exported 146,192,000 more than we imported. In 1932 our markets for American farm products were protected.

Government Guaranteed

Six government corporations have outstanding bonds amounting to $5,416,600,000, all of which is guaranteed by the government, but is not considered by the New Deal as a part of the government debt.

Cross-word Puzzles

Puzzles similar to the cross-word puzzles were known to the ancients. What is believed by some authorities to be the oldest cross-word puzzle was made by a Cretan about 2,000 years ago, a copy of which now lies in the archaeological museum at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. This puzzle is called the Phacelus disk, and was found on the island of Crete by an expedition many years ago.

LUKE AND HIS GOSPEL

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1:1-4; Acts 1:1; Colossians 4:14; II Timothy 4:11.
GOLDEN TEXT—It seemed good to me also to write to you, that you might know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.—Luke 1:3, 4.

Reading a book is a privilege and should be an illuminating and stirring experience. What a pity that so few read good books in our day! To study a book is a far more fruitful and interesting experience. Few are the books worthy of prolonged and repeated study. Therein do we find one of the great differences between books of men and God's Book—the Bible. Again and again we turn to its pages and find its truth inexhaustible, ever interesting, informing, and soul-stirring in its beauty and power.

In reading any book, we want to know who wrote it, what kind of a man he was, why he wrote, what he wrote about, and what kind of a book he wrote. We recognize that the Holy Spirit is the real author of the Word (II Tim. 3:16; II Pet. 1:21), but he chose and used human writers. As we begin a six-month study of the Gospel according to Luke, we properly ask about both the author and his writing.

I. The Writer—Luke.

Our information regarding Luke is found in the New Testament. In the introductory words of the books he wrote (Luke and Acts) and in the writings of his friend and co-worker, Paul. There we learn of his

1. Nationality and Religion. His name, "Luke," is a contraction of the Greek name "Loukios" and, since we know from Colossians 4:11 and 14 that he was not "of the circumcision," we know he was a Gentile and evidently a Greek. When, where and by whom he was won to Christ, we do not know. We do know that this intelligent Greek, versed in all the philosophies of the perfection of personality, found in Christ the fulfillment of all his desires and dreams.

2. Profession—a Physician (Col. 4:14). See also medical terms in all his writings. Luke wrote scholarly Greek; he was familiar with the life of a sailor (Acts 27); he joined with his scientific accuracy an esthetic culture often revealed in his writings.

3. His Friends. A man's friends indicate his character. Luke had a close friend and possibly a patron, "his excellency" Theophilus (Acts 1:1; Luke 1:3), evidently a man of standing and ability. He was also a close friend and fellow laborer with perhaps the greatest man of all time, Paul the apostle.

4. His Activities. Follow missionary with Paul (Acts 10:11; 20:5, 6, and elsewhere), physician, preacher of the gospel, and author.

II. The Book—the Gospel by Luke.

To have written a book may be a doubtful distinction, but to have been used of the Holy Spirit to write such a book as this Gospel—what an honor and privilege! Following Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, we note:

1. Its Subject. "The Word" (Luke 1:2). He wrote about the perfect personality of Jesus Christ, but he, like John (John 1:14), recognized that it was the divine and eternal Word which became flesh in the perfect humanity of Jesus Christ.

2. Its Sources. He doubtless read what many had written (Luke 1:1). He also talked with "eyewitnesses" (Luke 1:2) and "ministers of the word" who had known the Lord. His sources were excellent and unimpeachable.

3. Its Method. He "troced the course" (for so does the R. V. properly translate Luke 1:3) of the material he gathered; that is, he did original research and investigation, always under the control and guidance of the Holy Spirit. This resulted in a placing of all things "in order." After gathering, sifting, investigating, the Holy Spirit saw that Luke put all things in proper order. (see I Cor. 14:33, 40).

4. Its Purpose. Luke wanted Theophilus (and others who read his Gospel) to know with "certainty" (Luke 1:4) those things in which he was already instructed by word of mouth. Important matters must always be written down, carefully and in order. To pass things on by word of mouth inevitably results in change, conscious or unconscious. So desperately vital a matter as our eternal salvation calls for writings, exact and complete. Luke, who had a knowledge of all these things, was moved by the Holy Spirit to write, and thus we have this glorious Gospel which we are to study from now until the end of March, 1941.

A closing word: A 12-page booklet, Can America Be Saved? by the writer of these notes, will be sent free on request. Use the address above. A post card will do, but if convenient, enclose postage. Your comments or suggestions regarding the lessons will also be appreciated.

Farms Mortgaged

Norman J. Wall of the bureau of agricultural economics, says that 34.5 per cent of all farms in the United States are now mortgaged. In 1930 life insurance companies held 22 per cent of the total farm debt of $9,000,000,000. At the end of 1938 they held only 12 1/2 per cent of the decreased debt of seven billions.

MRS. WILLKIE'S LIFE STORY FOR WOMEN VOTERS

Wife of Candidate Gets Share of Limelight and Smiles Back at Her Public

SHE'S 23 YEARS MARRIED

As Edith Willk She Met Husband at a Wedding, and Danced With Him

Mrs. Edith Willk Willkie, wife of the Republican candidate, is quite a contrast to her 26-pound husband. She is only five feet two and probably weighs about 110. She is trim and active, and has short dark brown hair frosted with silver.

Born forty-four years ago in Nashville, her family moved back to its native Indiana, where she and her sister (now Mrs. Miller Hamilton of Indianapolis) were brought up in the town of Rushville. Her father who died a few years ago, was a small-town building contractor. "I grew up," says Mrs. Willkie, "in a home where I never heard a cross word spoken."

After graduating from high school, she went to the University of Indiana for two years. Then she worked as a librarian in Rushville and Elwood. It was at a wedding that she met Wendell Willkie, who was made of honor and he was an usher.

He asked her to dance with him. "His dancing was so bad that I've never told daughter with him since," she confesses. But she liked him, even if he was only a struggling young lawyer without very glowing prospects.

They were married January 11, 1918, and soon thereafter Willkie went overseas with the Field Artillery. It was on his return that they moved to Akron, where he had secured a job in the Firestone offices. His salary wasn't big, and she had a pretty tough time making it stretch over the house-keeping expenses.

Mrs. Willkie doesn't play bridge and she belongs to no clubs. She spends no more time on her clothes than the average woman, but the results are always simple and becoming. Her main interests have always been her husband and her son Philip.

It isn't in her line to deliver speeches, and she has politely but consistently refused to speak on the radio, although she has great admiration for those to whom it comes naturally. Her ambition, she says, is to be "a charming hostess" and a "devoted and intelligent wife and mother."

The nominating convention, she admits, caught her unprepared. But she loved the excitement of it. The convention loved her, too, and she had the spontaneous admiration of delegates, spectators and reporters.

The story has been told a thousand times of how Willkie proposed to her. "Edith," he said, "how would you like to change Willk to Willkie?"

'round the Lakes

Fairly good business during the week-ends is reported by a number of the resorts. Many cottage owners have taken advantage of pleasant autumn weather to spend a day or two at the lakes, and other visitors have enjoyed the beautiful autumn scenery of the region during Saturday or Sunday motor trips. The fall fishing also appears to be good, and is drawing an additional quota of visitors.

A northern pike weighing 12 pounds was caught at Haisman's resort on Lake Marie, Sunday, by Joseph C. Blaha of Argo, Ill. it is reported.

"Ho, hum! Just another one of those things that keep life from getting too monotonous," said Mrs. Adolph Helm, wife of the operator of Adolph's Channel Inn at Channel lake as she phoned the sheriff's office Tuesday that two apparent short change artists had just called.

That was on Tuesday. On Monday two juke box collectors had stopped in and informed her that HERE-AFTER the agreement of a 50-50 split on the nickel take, 50 per cent to the tavern and 50 to the juke box owner, was OUT. They wanted a bigger percentage. . . . quite a bit bigger. (It is believed that the same ultimatum was delivered to some of the other tavern owners in the lake area.)

Mrs. Helm, whose delicious Saturday night turkey dinners were enjoyed by hundreds of resort visitors during the summer, says these are just some of the griefs one has to contend with in the food and drinks business, but things always have a way of working out, well, fairly well.

County Religious Council Will Hold 70th Convention

A number of persons from Antioch and vicinity are planning to attend the seventieth annual convention of the Lake County Council of Religious Education at Millburn Congregational church Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 12 and 13.

Arrangements were discussed at a dinner meeting held Friday evening in the Ivanhoe Congregational church, with Frank Sherwood of Lake Villa, vice-president, acting as chairman in the place of the Rev. W. M. Haltenhoff, president of the Lake Forest Presbyterian church, who was ill.

Reports on the past year's work were given by Mrs. S. W. Degner of Libertyville, chairman of the children's division; Ruth Minto of Millburn, young people's division; Harry E. White, Mundelein, adult and home division; H. J. Hershberger, Half Day, treasurer, and Irene Roekenbach, Deerfield, recording secretary.

Others present were: Mrs. Harry E. White of Mundelein; Mrs. M. T. Rasmussen, Wauconda; the Rev. and Mrs. Loyal D. Sitter, Miss Vivien Bonner, Millburn, and Mrs. George Panzel, Gurnee, all of the advisory committee; Chesney Brooks, Wauconda; and the Rev. Jayne, host pastor.

"Original Delegate" Expected

The Seventieth anniversary program will begin at 1:30 p. m. Saturday with a song service, and a welcoming address by Rev. Melvin L. Frank, pastor of the convention church.

The Sunday School association was organized at Millburn, on September 20, 1870, in a small one-room church, replaced since by the modern edifice in which the anniversary convention will be held. Ten years ago, the name of the association was changed to the Lake County Council of Religious Education.

From an old copy of the Waukegan Gazette, it is found that the organizers of the Sunday School group in Lake county were John V. Farwell, of Lake Forest, E. S. Wells, of the same place, D. L. Moody, of Chicago, the great evangelist and founder of the Moody church, Professor P. L. Bliss, the composer of Gospel hymns, R. S. Thain, of Chicago, and Rev. John Y. Aichison, pastor of the Waukegan Baptist church. Farwell was elected the first president. The assembly was very well attended, and remained in session two days, and, the newspaper account goes on to say, the good people of Millburn entertained all of their guests over night and for all meals, free of charge, "displaying unbounded hospitality." The closing hymn was composed for the occasion by Mrs. Geo. E. Smith, of Millburn.

The plans for the anniversary convention program this year at Millburn include the introduction of several former presidents of the organization, as well as other early workers. L. J. Yager, of Waukegan, a former president, will respond to the introductions. One delegate of the 1870 convention is expected to be present at this 70th anniversary — Mrs. James H. Bonner, of Millburn, who was 13 years of age at the time, and remembers that she with other children came to the church from school to the "children's meeting" which was addressed by D. L. Moody, and where the children asked and answered questions.

The anniversary address will be delivered by Dr. Joseph M. Artman, of Chicago, secretary of the Religious Education association. His topic will be "Christian Education—Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." Dr. Artman is nationally known as an educator, writer, and speaker on religious education. He is editor of the magazine "Character," and lecturer for the National Citizenship council.

A reception and social hour will be held in the church dining room at the close of the Saturday afternoon session in honor of the past presidents and other early workers, providing an opportunity to meet old and new friends. Frank R. Sherwood, of Lake Villa, vice-president, will preside at the session.

On Sunday evening, October 13, the Young People's division of the County Council of Religious Education will hold a rally and conference, under the direction of the county committee, Miss Ruth Minto, of Millburn, presiding. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. Clarence N. Wright, pastor of Ravenswood Presbyterian church, Chicago, formerly in charge of young people's work in Colorado and Michigan state councils of religious education. Mr. Wright has been active in work with young people in camps and trainings schools for several years. He has also held positions as director of religious education in Detroit and Chicago churches.

Home Town Editor Boosts Willkie

Among early Willkie supporters was Don Carlson of the Elwood Call-Leader. Willkie, when 9 years old, used to deliver this paper.

For Willkie, Declares N. Y. Times, Which Twice Supported Roosevelt

The New York Times supported Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Presidency in 1932 and again in 1936. In 1940 it will support Wendell Willkie.

In all its history, the New York Times has listed itself as "an independent Democratic newspaper." Only once before has this famous newspaper supported a Republican nominee for President. Its declaration of reasons for deserting Roosevelt is a campaign document of high importance. In fact, according to leading editors, the most important declaration of its kind in newspaper history. It says in part:

"We give our support to Mr. Willkie primarily for these reasons: Because we believe that he is better equipped than Mr. Roosevelt to provide this country with an adequate national defense; because we believe he is a practical liberal who understands the need of increased production; because we believe that the fiscal policies of Mr. Roosevelt have failed disastrously; because we believe that at a time when the traditional safeguards of democracy are falling everywhere it is particularly important to honor and preserve the American tradition against vesting the enormous powers of the Presidency in the hands of any man for three consecutive terms of office."

Third Term Issue

From Mr. Roosevelt's own statement to the Democratic Convention the country knows that a year ago he had no intention of challenging the tradition against a third term: "Last September it was still my intention to announce clearly that under no circumstances would I accept reelection." This announcement was never made.

The doctrine of one man's indispensability is a new doctrine for this country. It is a doctrine which less scrupulous men in Europe have used to root themselves in power. It is a doctrine which we in the United States have good reason to question, particularly when we consider how the powers of the Presidency have grown, what immense patronage, what gigantic expenditures, what enormous power to perpetuate himself in office is now within the grasp of any President.

These considerations are especially relevant when the particular President who now chooses to remain in office for a third term is the same President who has never surrendered voluntarily a single one of the vast "emergency" powers which Congress has given him.

He is the same President who has shown himself so impatient of constitutional restraints that he was willing to circumvent the Supreme Court itself by adding enough members to give his own opinions a majority.

Liberals and Reform

We welcome the fact that Mr. Willkie stands pledged to conserve rather than destroy what is best in Mr. Roosevelt's reforms. We believe these reforms would be safe in Mr. Willkie's hands, not only because Mr. Willkie is a man of good-will, but because his approach to the problems now before us shows him to be a liberal.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Japan and Axis Powers Sign Pact; Britain's Navy Backs 'Free French' In Attack on Dakar, West Africa; 77 English Refugee Children Drown

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union

"Eventually, why not now," seems to be the slogan of these men of military age that recently swamped the New York city U. S. army recruiting offices. This line of would-be doughboys, desirous of getting into the army before the draft blows them in, reached away around a city block. Crowds like this have been applying for enlistment for the past few weeks and officials are of the opinion that volunteers may make up the first quota of 400,000 men required under the conscription law, without resort to the nationwide draft.

(For further news of the draft see: DEFENSE, Conscription.)

THE WAR: New Fronts

A united front of Germany, Italy and Japan became a reality as these three nations signed a pact in Berlin in which they proclaimed to the world a new political, economic and military treaty providing for an interchange of assistance in case any other nation enters the European war.

Military experts were quick to say that this pact was aimed at the United States for it is believed by many that this country's policy of aid to Great Britain has disturbed the axis powers and Japan is none too pleased with the friendly American attitude toward China.

Under terms of the treaty signed in the presence of Adolf Hitler, Germany and Italy are recognized as the powers of the "new order" in Europe and Japan is to be the leader of a "new order" in "Greater Asia."

Day before this pact was signed the United States government had cut off scrap iron shipments to Japan.

French Trouble

Battle broke out in two new sectors and France was engaged in both. Technically it is not war. But to the soldiers and sailors killed it made little difference.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the "Free French Committee" which, from offices in London, is opposing the Petain cabinet, led an expedition against Dakar, Senegal, in French West Africa. Many African states controlled by France already had pledged allegiance to De Gaulle. In Senegal, De Gaulle said, there had been infiltration of Germans and Italians who sought to seize the air station. The air station is important. It is the hopping off place for Brazil, 1,700 miles across the south Atlantic—much closer to Latin America than New York.

De Gaulle expected quick victory. French warships under his command, however, were beaten off by Petain warships already in the port. But British naval forces backed up the French and a first class battle ensued. The British indicated they will land troops to hold the country. In reprisal Petain planes bombed Gibraltar.

Indo-China

French Indo-China also was under assault—in this scene by Japanese. The Tokyo government sought military privileges ostensibly to attack China through the back door, but in reality to extend their Asian influence. An ultimatum brought them results. But the Japanese Canton army attacked nevertheless, and began an invasion.

In Europe

German radios continued to thunder that Nazi legions would invade England. "We are coming," said the broadcasts aimed at the British Isles.

Louder than the radios, however, was the rumble of bombs over London as well as other interior towns.

Night after night Messerschmidts dropped 500-pound thermite bombs that wrecked rows of homes, stores and factories. The British museum was hit. Shell splinters pitted Big Ben. A famous church designed by Sir Christopher Wren was destroyed. Londoners slept in subway stations and shelters, if at all.

There was demand for retaliation, for the royal air corps to smash Berlin.

At Sea

The British admitted loss of their seventeenth submarine and on the same day announced sinking of four Nazi boats in the channel. Most shocking of all, however, was loss of a merchantman sent to the bottom 600 miles at sea allegedly by a German torpedo. The ship was bringing English refugee children to America. Among the 248 dead were 77 children. Also lost with the ship was Rudolf Olden, former publisher of the Berliner Tageblatt. Olden was a thorn in the side of Adolf Hitler when the fuhrer was struggling for power. The brown-shirted leader had voiced threats of vengeance on him.

DEFENSE:

Conscription

Two volumes of rules and regulations which have been compiled during years of study by the army were signed by President Roosevelt to govern the draft of manpower. The regulations cover everything from the physical requirements of enrollees to the amount and type of furniture needed in draft board offices. Whereas the regular army rejects applicants under 64 inches, the draft will accept men of 60 inches. The draftee must have three upper and lower biting teeth that meet and three upper and three lower chewing teeth. Conscripts needing minor dental care will receive it in camp.

CAMPAIGN:

The Willkie Swing

Wendell Willkie ended in Madison, Wis., his first swing around the country, which was expected to set the pace for the Republican campaign. Everywhere he spoke to great crowds, though not always to friendly ones. In speech after speech Mr. Willkie attacked New Deal spending, the third term, Democratic city machines. He said he had a three-point program: 1, Rehabilitation of American industry as a means of ending unemployment; 2, a strong national defense; 3, preservation of democracy and national unity. His next tour will be eastward.

In the Philadelphia hall where Wendell Willkie received the Republican nomination, President Roosevelt, dressed in a purple gown, received the degree of doctor of laws from the University of Pennsylvania at its 200th anniversary celebration. He had fault to find with the university's founding date. He told the crowd, which laughed at the remark, that it embarrassed him that "the 200th anniversary should fall on an election year."

New Leader

Here is Rep. John W. McCormack of Boston, Mass., just elected to the position of Democratic floor leader of the house of representatives. An ardent New Dealer, he succeeds Rep. Sam Rayburn, recently elevated to speaker of the house, following the death of William B. Bankhead.

CENSUS:

Smallest Gain

Besides you there are 131,409,880 of us in the United States, as of April 1. You have the word of the United States census bureau for it, and they counted noses. But the rise in population during the last 10 years was only 7 per cent, the lowest on record. In the decade between 1920 and 1930, the percentage of increase was 16.1.

Decline in the birth rate and a virtual stoppage of immigration is given as the reason. William L. Austin, director of the census, viewed the situation with concern, as did students of population trends. Some have figured that by 1970 there will be 150,000,000 in the United States and after that, unless something unforeseen occurs, the drift will be downward.

RADIO:

New Numbers

The Federal Communications commission announced that 777 out of 882 radio stations in the U. S. will change frequencies on or about December 1. The rearrangement comes through agreement entered into by the United States, Cuba, Mexico and Canada, in order to eliminate international interference. Radio receivers of the push button type will need adjustment to the new numbers. For the metropolitan centers the reception will not be altered greatly, but it will make quite an improvement in the rural areas, FCC officials claim.

In the new setup, United States stations now operating between 740 and 780 kilocycles will move up 10 kilocycles; stations between 790 and 870 will move up 20; stations between 880 and 1,450 will move up 30; clear-channel stations will shift from 1,460-1,490 to 1,500-1,530; local stations now on 1,500 will move down to 1,490. Stations now between 550 and 720 will remain unchanged.

PIE IN THE SKY:

But No Automobiles

Two years ago, Dr. Robert Ley, head of the German labor front, promised to put an automobile in every worker's garage. Some 200,000 workers began contributing $2 weekly toward the $396 purchase price, which later was raised to $467. But there will be no automobiles. Both unfinished factories and contributions have been turned over to war use.

Ley now is offering a new plan. After the war, he told German workers, wages for 10 years will be divided into "free" and "tied" parts. The "tied" parts will revert to the government and workers will get not only automobiles, but homes and other things the government thinks is good for them. He also said there will be no more forced labor and everyone will have a weekly vacation from Saturday noon to Monday morning.

SCIENCE:

New Process

John Henry Walthall, 40-year-old scientist with the TVA, has discovered a method of abstracting aluminum from common clay. Aluminum is now derived from bauxite, found domestically chiefly in Arkansas, but imported in huge quantities from Dutch Guiana. The TVA said the discovery will make the U. S. virtually independent of foreign sources.

MISCELLANY:

¶ Mrs. Stanley Beggs, 46, of Lyndhurst, N. J., was arrested by FBI agents charged with demanding $50,000 from Miss Helen Clay Frick, heiress of the late steel millionaire. ¶ A bill fixing penalties for peacetime sabotage in defense industries has been passed by the senate and sent to the house.

¶ The Pennsylvania super-highway which cuts through the Appalachian mountains from Pittsburgh to near Harrisburg, was designed for speeds at more than 100 miles an hour. While the express road has not yet been opened for traffic, the commission controlling it has already decided that the state's 50-mile an hour speed law will be enforced. ¶ Boston saw the greatest parade in the history of the American Legion when 100,000 veterans and their auxiliaries were in line, and 300,000 spectators stood along the curbs to see the 14-hour long procession.

When German dive bombers leveled Warsaw, Mayor Stefan Starzynski directed the defense of the city by radio heard round the world. When the Nazis entered the city they found him still at his desk. He was placed under arrest and disappeared. On the anniversary of that arrest, British sources said, Starzynski was put to death in Berlin.

Running for congress in the German populated Yorkville section of New York city, Joseph McWilliams, who dubbed himself "the American fuhrer" and preached Nazi doctrine, was roundly defeated, getting but 674 votes. One of the leaders of the Christian Mobilizers, Joe McNazi, as he was dubbed by New York newspapers, was in a hospital the following day for a sanity test.

A promise to the farmer that he will be assured of the American market for his products was made in an address delivered at Aurora, Illinois, by Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican candidate for Vice-President, and co-author of the McNary-Haugen bill.

Senator McNary

Senator McNary said the Republican administration under Wendell Willkie "will further, and by every means, seek to enlarge the American market for farm products—both by improving the consuming power of city consumers and also by encouraging the industrial uses of farm raw materials. Thirdly, it will search for a formula for freeing the American farm price from the vagaries of foreign markets; putting the farmer on the same footing with other American producers, who sell at the American—not the world—price."

Senator McNary's speech sounded the keynote of the Republican campaign on the farm problem. He criticized the woeful failure of the New Deal to solve the farm problem in a permanent and effective manner. He said, "Actually, the basic farm problem is no nearer solution today than it was on March 4th, 1933. The New Deal has reached none of its fundamental objectives. Its farm program is a thing of shreds and patches; setting nothing; merely putting off the day of reckoning. If I did not believe that the New Deal's 'success' could be enormously bettered, I should not—as a farmer and a friend of the farmer—be standing before you today. If I thought that the best Government of the United States had to offer the farmer was regimented subsistence and a permanent state of disparity, then I should despair for my country."

The speaker endorsed heartily the statement, made on several occasions by Mr. Willkie, to the effect that the present form of the farm program would be continued until something better can be developed. He said, "I know of no one who advocates withholding from the farmer the grants he now has—soil conservation, parity payments, crop loans, and other benefits—until the prolonged emergency is past and the farmer no longer is at a disadvantage. I have many farmer friends who are gravely concerned over the deficits which these benefits—taken together with all the New Deal's expenditures—are piling up for deferred payment. The farm population will pay its full share in meeting these bills. Furthermore, the administration of these vast paternalistic enterprises leaves much to be desired. The inevitable faults of bureaucracy—red tape, favoritism, confusion and delay—plague these enterprises. They should be decentralized. Costs should be reduced."

His direct statement giving his view on the relative merits of the New Deal administration of the farm program and the Republican policy was as follows: "The New Deal, satisfied with its farm program, sees the aggregate improvement it has been able to make in the farmers' lot a maximum aim. I see it as a maximum. I accept that program only as a stopgap substitute for something better until something better can be provided. And I assert, in full confidence, that the next administration will be able to provide something better."

In further explanation of the difference between the New Deal accomplishments and the aggressive Republican policy on the farm problem Senator McNary declared, "An administration worth its salt will strive for parity prices—not parity payments. It will seek to make our surpluses a blessing and not a curse."

Regarding the results of the New Deal farm program, the candidate said, "Surrounded by mountainous surpluses, or reserves, the farmer has been frozen into a dependence on the government. The New Deal, as everyone knows, did not invent the farm problem. Its offense lies in the fact that, finding agriculture ill of a functional disorder, it made the disorder chronic."

He continued, "Secretary Wallace has renamed the agricultural surpluses. You will, of course, recall that the great glut of wheat, corn and cotton that still plagues the New Deal began as plain surpluses. Then, in 1938, Mr. Wallace changed the name, but not the substance, to the 'ever-normal granary'—a condition which if not checked, seems on the way to providing ever-normal poverty for the farmer."

REPUBLICANS IN CONGRESS AID DEFENSE

PREVENTED LONG DELAY

Two Leaders Paved Way for Needed Action Providing Arms.

New Deal efforts again to force an adjournment of Congress recall to mind that last June President Roosevelt brought pressure to send the national legislative body home. He declared he could see no good reason why Congress should not adjourn "except for the no doubt laudable purpose of making speeches."

This move was fought and blocked by House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., and Senate Leader Charles L. McNary, now the Republican nominee for Vice-President. With other Republicans in Congress they believed it was the duty of Congress to be on the job in such critical times.

To the far-sighted statesmanship of these two Republican leaders now can go much of the credit for the legislation setting in motion the long delayed national defense machinery. Had Congress adjourned in June when Mr. Roosevelt wanted to get rid of the legislators, there would have been a further delay of months in getting national defense preparations going and the country would be in a far more difficult situation.

For since that time Congress has enacted most of the legislation authorizing and appropriating money for the war ships, tanks, guns, and airplanes which Mr. Roosevelt now boasts are "on order." In addition Congress enacted the Conscription Act and the bill authorizing the President to mobilize the National Guard. It also passed the Alien Registration law and a bill taxing excess profits and liberalizing certain laws necessary for the expansion of industry.

Martin and McNary remain opposed to the adjournment of Congress because they believe the legislators, under our system of representative, republican government, should stay on the job when there is business to be done. They do not believe in "one man government" here any more than they approve of it in Europe.

For instance, the two Republican leaders contend that Congress should complete passage by the Senate of legislation amending the National Labor Relations Act, already adopted by the House. This, they assert, would be a real contribution to economic recovery at home. The New Dealers, however, want to end the Congressional session in order to carry on their political campaigns. Their attitude is that recovery and national defense can wait until next year—and that is what they have been saying for seven years.

'NO WAR' IS WILLKIE PLEDGE TO NATION

Addressing an audience of his fellow townsmen at Rushville, Indiana, Wendell Willkie made the following unequivocal declaration:

"I shall never lead the United States into any European war."

"I believe completely that the United States should help Great Britain short of war, but when I say short of war, I mean SHORT OF WAR."

Commenting on the charge of Henry A. Wallace that the Republican Party is "the party of appeasement," Mr. Willkie said:

"If appeasement means working out compromises with dictators; if Mr. Wallace intended to apply that to the Republican Party, he was 100 percent wrong, because if I am elected President of the United States there will be no appeasement with any dictator."

"But if Wallace meant to say the Republican Party is the party of peace, then he spoke the truth, because I shall never lead the United States into any European war."

Beauty Reaches All-Time High in New '41 Chevrolet

Completely new styling joins with numerous mechanical improvements to make the new 1941 Chevrolet, now on display at all dealers, a worthy successor to the cars which have earned first place in public favor year after year. The greater size and roominess of the new models, as well as their sleek new beauty, are apparent in the Special De Luxe Sport Sedan, shown above.

At (2) is shown the spacious interior of the same model's rear compartment, and at (3) is its front compartment, showing two-spoke steering wheel with horn-blowing ring, new sliding-type sun visors, and smartly re-styled dash.

One of the major changes is substitution of concealed safety-steps (4) for the running boards of other years, an improvement adding to the car's beauty without sacrifice of the safety and convenience which running boards provide. At (5) is the six-cylinder Chevrolet valve-in-head engine for 1941, in which many refinements have been made. Horsepower is increased from 85 to 90 without affecting economy; and cooling, lubrication and carburetion are all improved. In circle is the new switch which reverses the ignition current polarity each time the starter is operated, indefinitely prolonging the life of distributor points.

Cal's Eyes Reflect

In the back of the eye of a cat, as well as some other animals, there is a mirroring surface, called a tapetum. Even in a very feeble light the mirror-like membrane will cause the cat's eye to "shine in the dark." However, points out the Better Vision institute, there must be some light for the cat's eye to reflect, for the animal's eye merely reflects and does not generate light. That is easily demonstrated by looking at a cat in a photographer's dark room. In such a place devoid of light the eye of a cat does not shine.
